What is a Game?

What are some examples of games?

Difficulty Curve

What is a Game?

-Achieving a goal within a constrained environment

What makes a good showroom demo?

- It is a game!
- A distilled experience. You want the player to discover something new and implement it.
- Easy to restart (If somebody leaves in the middle or worse, if you get lock)
- Accessible -> Somebody should be able to pick up the controller and play.
- Smooth & Bug Free-> Don't waste people's time.
- Spectator sport
- Bounded (give people a discrete experience)
- Not too long
- Doesn't give away too much
- Don't make somebody sit through long cutscenes.
- Show some hints of what to expect in the full game.

Some Things To Communicate

-Game Name

-Producer

-Release Date

-Platform

-Features

-Multiplayer

-Platinum Trophy

-Game length

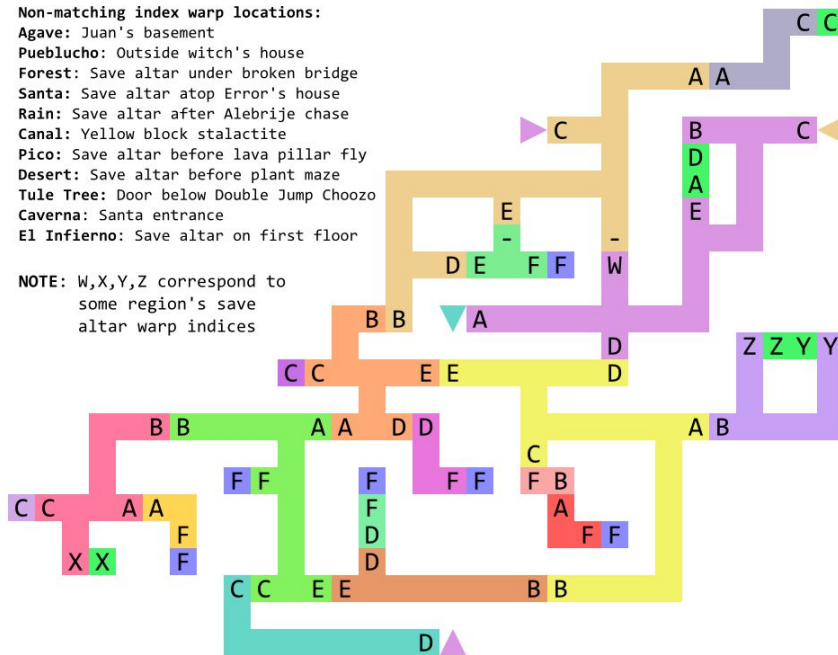

How do we get there?

Establish your goals

- What are your core tenets?
- Make sure everybody knows and agrees what your goals are.
- Write them down!
- Be Specific
 - What are your deliverables?
 - How many levels?
 - How many enemies?
 - How long is our demo?
 - Are we going to make a cutscene?
 - What game features are we going to show? What are we going to foreshadow?
 - What's our UI going to be like?
 - Music? Audio?
 - What will we cut in a pinch? What are stretch goals?

Trello

-Easy to set up and share

-Pretty!

-Difficult to track progress

-Difficult to set up notifications

The screenshot shows a Trello board titled "SEVERED Tasks" with a teal header. The board is organized into four columns: "Upcoming Tasks", "Moved to Bugzilla", "Done", and "Cutting Board (low priority items)".

- Upcoming Tasks: Contains cards for "Father Dungeon Tasks" (12 items, 4/7 done), "Missing SFX" (0/28), "Dragon enemy" (2 items, 0/1 done), "iOS Build" (1 item, 5/12 done), "Brother Dungeon tasks" (12 items, 1 done, 6/17 done), "ChrisH - 3DS Port - Including design for inputs and screens", "SpellCaster" (2 items, 4/8 done), "Mayuran -", "Buffeater Enemy (Boss)" (7 items, 4/11 done), and "Forest Level" (1 item, 0/3 done).
- Moved to Bugzilla: Contains a card for "Play Tests" (3/3 done).
- Done: Contains cards for "Halloways and Rooms in Dungeons" (5 items, 0/1 done), "Implement Horn sever part", "Upgrade screen" (6 items, 4 done, 1/3 done), "Automatic Node numbering" (1 item, 5/5 done), "Improve Tap Logic", and "3DS Licensing Agreement for NOE" (1 item).
- Cutting Board (low priority items): Contains cards for "Leave evidence of past battles behind", "When panning across the screen, have a little vertical movement if the player's slash/gesture is at an angle. Also, use this for a 'bobbing' effect when the player is transitioning into a new node to sim walking.", "Distorter Enemy" (2 items, 3/8 done), "Affinity Power" (3 items, 2/4 done), and "Showing player's arm on-screen" (1 item, 2/7 done). It also includes a video player showing a game scene.

The interface includes a search bar, a user profile for "Chris McQuinn", and a "Show Menu" button in the top right. Each card has a progress bar, a list of items, and a "done" count.

Brainstorm Sessions

- Establish your goals!
- Set a time limit.
- Be mindful of getting off track.
- Get input from the quiet people.
- Keep them small (5 people max).
- Designate a secretary.
- Go to sleep.

Implement The Best Plan You Have!

More is lost by indecision than wrong decision. Indecision is the thief of opportunity. It will steal you blind.

— Marcus Tullius Cicero —

Prototypes

- Find a quick and minimal way to prototype.
- Art won't save bad game design.
- Easier to walk away from.
- Try designing on paper.

Hold Regular Reviews

- Good Practice “Finishing”
- Get used to giving/receiving feedback
- Keep track of progress
- Identify bugs early
- Opportunity to reassess goals

Playtesting!!

- Playtest early and often!
- Often underestimated, but you will learn so much.
- Strive to build to application that requires no intervention.
- Resist the urge to help.
- You'll find bugs you'd never discover on your own.
- smooth out difficulty
- Take notes!!
- Test with a diverse audience.
- Don't take things personally

Enforce Lockdowns and Safe Builds

- Objective is to make a build you feel confident in.
- Target your safe build well before you'll actually need it.
- “Lockdown” people from committing non-critical updates.
- Test build before lifting lockdown.
- Have more than one if possible.

Preparing for the show

- Get there early! You want to have time sort out issues like forgetting a laptop cable.
- Budget your travel time.
- Prepare and practice your elevator pitch. Try telling different people.
- Think about engagement!
 - Business cards?
 - Email List?
 - Web site, social media
- Decorations!
 - Concept art.
 - Back story
- You're selling more than just a game.

Surviving the Show

- Bring Snacks.

- Wear comfortable shoes.

- Pay attention to body language.

- Engage the folks just watching.

- Don't be afraid to make small talk with people passing by your booth.

 - Where are you from? What cool games have you seen at the show?

Have Fun!

- Great opportunity to meet like minded people
- See games before lines form and talk to devs
- Meet your fans!
- Don't miss the opportunity to reflect and take it all in.

Do you want a game dev job?

- It is possible!
- It's still a job.
- Creative
- Not about the money
- ...It's about the love

To Summarize

- Orient yourself towards clear goals
- Be precise with your timelines
- Implement the best plan you have
- Practice “Finishing”
- Playtest early and often
- Lockdown and make Safe Builds

Thank You!
